Simon Kuznets Kharkiv National University of Economics
Department of Foreign Languages and Intercultural Communication

FORMATION OF INTERCULTURAL COMMUNICATION EXPERIENCE BY TEACHING FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Tetiana Kolbina

Doctor of Pedagogical Sciences, Professor

Intercultural Communication

Intercultural communication is a form of social interaction between representatives of different cultures, aimed at communication, mutual learning, joint activities and cooperation in various spheres of life.

Importance of Learning Foreign Language in Formation of Intercultural Communication Experiecne

- Foreign language is "a crossroad of cultures", "a meeting place" with another culture;
- An inexhaustible source of information in all spheres of life.

- Y.V. von Goethe: "The one who does not know foreign languages, does not know their own".
- W. von Humboldt: "The limits of my nation's language mean the limits of my worldview".
- M. Heidegger: Language is "a house of being".

Functions of Language

- Language is a mirror of culture, "a worldview" of national community;
- Language is a treasury and culture-bearer;
- Language is a means of cultural experience transition from previous generations;
- Language is a tool of culture, a means to form a man's personality as a native speaker – a representative of national culture;
- Language is the main means of communication and mutual understanding of people.

Aspects of Formation of Intercultural Communication Experience by Studying Foreign Language

- Philosophical
- Culturological

- Psychological

- Linguistic

Methodological Approaches to Formation of Intercultural Communication Experience

- System-based

- Culturology-based

- Communication- and Activity-based

- Technological

Pedagogical System of Formation of Intercultural Communication Experience

Content Components of Formation Process of Intercultural Communication Experience

Pedagogical Technology of Formation of Intercultural Communication Experience

Stages of Invariant Technology:

- Motivation- and goal-oriented
- Communicative-cognitive
- Communicative and activity-oriented
- Value-reflexive

Thank you for your Attention!